Feb 4, 2021 Automation Studio is engineering software for system design, documentation, training and maintenance of automated electrical equipment and fluid materials. Automation Studio helps you to design and maintain industrial equipment from the design to the operation, in a very powerful environment, by providing a powerful graphical user interface. Automation Studio has the most powerful and integrated solutions for design, analysis, documentation, training, and maintenance of complex engineering systems. Innovations, features and languages Dynamic design languages Continuous design, testing and change automation with dynamic design languages. EDA modeling for design and implementation Multi-warehouse based project management, system modeling with encapsulation and EDA modeling tools to generate documentation for the customer. For test verification Engineering Distribution System. For Control systems Engineering Automation Studio (EAS). For Design of test equipment, Design of simulation and optimization models, Design of production documentation, Design of training materials, Analysis, Documentation, Generation of qualification tools, Generation of training materials, Generation of test reports, With HMI, PLC, PVI, SCADA, Distributed automation, Capabilities Documentation, Training, Test, Engineering, Production. Application areas Hardware, Biomedical engineering, Chemistry, Automotive, Distributed computing, Bioengineering, Industrial engineering, Electronics, Telecommunications, Transportation, Mechatronics, Aerospace, Nuclear energy, Oil and gas, Ocean engineering, Membrane technology, Energy management, Information technology, Machine control
